

Cheryl Rampersaud

The digital supercharger

Every year, Manulife recognizes employees who make a difference by helping people in their local communities. Cheryl is a volunteer who helps young offenders find a path to a better future.

Transcript

CHERYL:

Giving back is important to me. That's why over the last seventeen years I volunteered as a youth justice committee member with the John Howard society. This year Manulife recognized my volunteer effort with the Stars of Excellence Community Award. I'm proud to work for a company that shares my values in giving back to the community in which we live.